BANKERS FIGHT CHARGES OF OFFERING BRIBES

Officials of Six Institutions Deny Monetary Influence for Deposits.

FORTY COUNCILMEN HAVE CONFERRED TAKING MONEY

Minister Suggests That Culprits Do Missionary Work in Other Cities.

PITTSBURG, March 28.—The officials of the six depositories under investigation of the District Attorney and a graft investigating Grand Jury probably will fight the charges that they gave bribes to Councilmen in order to have their institutions chosen as the depositories of city funds.

The attitude of the bankers is believed to be outlined in two statements made today before the District Attorney, one from the Second National Bank and the other from the Farmers Deposit National Bank.

The Farmers Bank denied paying any money to obtain city deposits, and declared that if any money was paid for such purpose it was without the sanction, authority or consent of the board of directors.

The Grand Jury heard the story of F. S. Wilcock, director of the Second National Bank today. Employes waiting to be heard took with them massive bank books.

PITTSBURG, March 28.—This day is known as "bankers' day" in Pittsburgh. The district attorney before nightfall will have heard more than one hundred officials and employees of the six depositories tell what they know in reference to money being paid to city councilmen to obtain the passage of bank ordinances in 1908.

Forty or more councilmen have confessed that they received money for the passage of the ordinance. Two bank presidents, one now serving a term in the penitentiary for bribery, have admitted that money was paid to have the ordinances passed.

The grand jury wants to know who are the men "higher up" in the giving and taking processes.

BIG SUM INVOLVED.

It has been asserted in various confessions now in the hands of the district attorney that six city depositories provided a fund of $102,500 for the passage of the bank ordinances which included an interest rate of only 2 per cent, whereas other reputable bankers made written offers to pay 2½ per cent on daily balances.

The sermon of Rev. A. Greene of the Manchester Free-Methodist Church, delivered last night, is being widely discussed today. Mr. Greene suggested "grafting" councilmen be sent to do missionary work among erring sinners of other cities."

BANKERS TELL ALL.

At noon two bank officials had appeared in the district attorney's office. All the bankers under the "fire" of the district attorney are understood to have promised to come forward with sworn statements by tomorrow. Some of the bankers admit that the reason they have not appeared before the district attorney today is that they have not been officially notified to do so. This fact was admitted by the district attorney.

'O YOU KID!' CRIES ELEANOR SEARS TO 100-YEAR-OLD ELK

SAN DIEGO, March 28.—Hale, hearty, Charles C. Clusker, the oldest Elk in the world, yesterday celebrated his 100th birthday by rising at 8 o'clock, bathing, eating a hearty breakfast, walking ten blocks in eighteen minutes, visiting friends, hunting at a fair, running one block in record time for an elderly man and going to Coronado, where he met Miss Eleanor Sears, the society girl, who exclaimed, "Oh you kid!"

At dinner he was the guest of W. H. Olmstead of Los Angeles, who made the engagement three years ago. At 9:30 Mr. Clusker returned to San Diego.

250 KILLED WHEN FIRE BURNS HOTEL

CORONER SAYS GIRL'S DRESS GIRL WAS BURNED ALIVE

Investigation Leads to Horrifying Conclusion and Search for Motive Begins.

WOLTER ADHERES TO HIS STORY OF INNOCENCE

Police Seek Girls Formerly Associated With Prisoner, Suspecting Other Crimes.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Spurred on by the discovery that Ruth Wheeler, the victim of the sensational murder discovered last night, was by every evidence smothered and suffocated while unconscious into the fireplace of Albert Wolter's apartments and then burned to death, the authorities today continued the task of trying to develop the real motive for the crime.

After the autopsy on the body, Coroner's physician O'Hanlon declared that traces of soot in the nostrils and lungs convinced him the girl was still living when her body was set on fire.

WOLTER UNSHAKEN.

Hours of questioning of the closest sort have failed to shake young Wolter. In his declaration that he never had seen the Wheeler girl and knew nothing of the manner in which she met her fate.

He steadfastly declines to explain the entry of Ruth Wheeler's name in his memorandum book or to account to the satisfaction of the police for his movements on the day when it is learned Mrs. Wheeler visited his rooms in answer to an advertisement for a stenographer.

Information obtained from Katie Miller, or Mueller Wolter's companion, who was arrested yesterday was mostly of a negative character.

SUSPECT OTHER CRIMES

A fresh trial in Wolter's case, however, was struck by the authorities in a story told them by a young woman who confessed to having known Wolter well.

Her tale of the many young girls who, she said, had been associated with the prisoner, set the authorities to looking up the numerous girls whose names and addresses were found in Wolter's memorandum book to see if any of them are guilty.

Since the latter part of January more than fifty girls between 15 and 17 years of age have been reported missing. All but fifteen have been accounted for.

BREAKS DOWN

Under a merciless grilling today Ruth Mueller broke down and gave the police some startling admissions to her return. The police say she told of having returned to Wolter's apartment on the night Ruth Wheeler was first missed and at 9 o'clock was sound asleep.

About midnight the report of her testimony continued. I was awakened by a crash in the front room. I called out, "Where there?" and Albert answered from the front room, saying, "Part of the fire place has fallen down and I'm fixing it. You stay in bed." I went right back to sleep, but was wakened again about two o'clock by another sound as of something falling. Albert was down on his knees before the fire place, like a thing with his hands stuck into the earth. He said the fire place had broken down again.

"I said, 'Can I help you?' and started toward him. He said roughly, 'Get back to bed, I'll stay there or I'll choke you to death.' I went back to bed and stayed.

Father and Children Murdered by Maniac

Bodies Found in River With Bullet Wounds As Evidence of Crime.

CONCORD, Calif., March 28.—The bodies of Alexander Lindahl, a wealthy firm, and of his daughter, an 18-year-old woman of eight, were found Sunday morning in the Republican River near here. They went out in a motor boat Saturday evening and were not seen alive afterward.

Both children had been shot several times and the boy had also been struck with a club. The officers are searching for an insane man who was seen in the neighborhood Saturday.

BRIDAL COUPLE STRANDED IN AUTO FIRST NIGHT OUT

Mr. and Mrs. Baxter, Nee Rena Scott, Had Break Down on Honeymoon.

SHIVER UNTIL MORNING BECAUSE MOTOR STOPS

Obtain Another Car and Reach Los Gatos to Find Wire for Husband's Return

All efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baxter formerly Miss Rena Scott, of Alameda, to keep the fact that they spent the first night of their honeymoon in a stranded automobile out on the lonely San Jose road shivering from the cold and with only the lap robe of Cupid to warm their chilling hearts came to naught today when one of their friends told the story of the near catastrophe to the bride and bridegroom.

With all the glamour of a large church wedding and a brilliant home reception enveloping them in a hazy unreality, Mr. and Mrs. Baxter started out on their honeymoon journey on the evening of Thursday, March 17.

BROTHER IS DRIVER.

With Leland Scott, a brother of the bride, driving their large Packard car, they made the journey without any mishaps until they were within ten miles of San Jose, when the machine broke down, leaving the bridal party without means of making the Garden City. Throughout the night they shivered and cuddled close together. In the morning another car was procured and the party was driven to San Jose cold and hungry.

From San Jose they went to Los Gatos to the summer home of the Scotts, and here Mr. Baxter found a telegram recalling him to San Francisco on important business. He returned to Los Gatos the same afternoon and the honeymoon was uninterrupted until the young couple returned to the Scott home at 1723 Central avenue, Alameda, Saturday afternoon.

WANTED IT A SECRET.

Mrs. Baxter laughingly admitted the breakdown on her honeymoon eve today, but declines to give the details. It was too good a joke," she said, "and I don't want it known."

Charges Spouse Tried To Kill Her With Rock

Hurled Missile Through Window Where She Was Working, She Alleges.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Charging that her spouse had threatened to kill her, and went so far as to hurl a stone through a window pane where she was sitting, Mrs. Grace G. Platt, avowed to a warrant against William W. Hartley this morning. While sitting at her work before a typewriter in her office at 37 Stockton street on Friday, it is claimed Christy hurled a rock through the window at her. The missile missed its mark, but the glass was shattered around her and the husband was arrested at that time on a minor charge. He will now have to stand trial for threatening to kill his wife, and she expresses fear that if he is not restrained he will find another way to make an end of her.

Essence of Dreamy Music and Pretty Dancing Is Returned "Merry Widow"

PRETTY GIRLS AND GORGEOUS GOWNS A BIG FEATURE

Sonia and Danilo Seize the Audience With the Famous Waltz.

CLEVER AND DAINTY CHORUS A LARGE HELP

Cast Is Excellent and Theater Was Packed at Opening Production.

By Lynn Ethel Wilson

One part concentrated essence of collective femininity, the other part lilting music, now gay, now dreamy, a sprinkling of breathless gowns, and as a saucy plangent, any number of pretty girlish faces under ravishing hats and hair dreams to meet the last confusing note of flesh and—and you have the "Merry Widow."

Dainty, alluring, whimsical, with a rambling little love story as the basis for a bewildering array of song and dance the production is quite the most brilliant, altogether satisfactory thing which has brightened the theatrical horizon on this side of the bay for some time past.

"She has a way wid her," has the "Merry Widow," and she burst on Oakland for the second time last night, opening to a house which filled every seat in orchestra and gallery alike, tittered and clattered through three sparkling acts and left us wishing that she were a settled institution. Of course, fairy spirits like the merry widow never are. They just fit across the firmament with a whisk of fluffy skirts and a gay little smile, but we rush to see them for all that, and the sweet elusive perfume of gladness and the springtime of youth and love and laughter which they leave behind is grateful recompense for all the dull days to follow.

BEST PROOF OF MERIT.

That the production adjudged the greatest musical success of recent years should have scored a mammoth success throughout four long seasons and return to scenes of former conquest on a second tour which but finds the public more eager to view its dainty charms than on the first visit, in perhaps, the best possible proof of its merit.

Sonia, a Marsovan maid who marries a bumbling, wealthy merchant of her country to find herself in one short week in possession of his lands, titles and estates, without the encumbrance of an aged spouse, does just what almost any woman would do; she goes to Paris. And it's an awe inspiring and altogether adoring galaxy of men she leads around by their very superior nasal appendage, discerning in most instances the difference in the love for her self and the regard for her ten millions or so, until—she meets the Prince.

Then there are scenes, human, fiery little scenes, which both declare their right to absolute independence and it follows that the little moneyed maid has already sustained a bruised heart at the hands of the fickle but altogether lovable nobleman, who found himself forced to forego a tender romance with herself before

MABEL WILBER, who scored a brilliant success as Sonia in the "Merry Widow," which opened at the Macdonough Theater last night.

DENNISON AGAIN GETS HIS OFFICE ASPIRANTS MUST FAVOR VETERANS

Governor Gillett Reappoints Harbor Commissioner to Succeed Himself.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Harbor Commissioner W. E. Dennison has been appointed by Governor Gillett to succeed himself for another term of four years. Dennison was appointed Harbor Commissioner three years ago to fill the unexpired term of John Mackenzie of San Jose, following the latter's resignation from the office.

The re-appointment of Commissioner Dennison is a well merited compliment to his efficiency and a fitting reward for the splendid service he has rendered the State during the time he has been a member of the harbor board, for his conduct as a commissioner has been invariably actuated by strict conservation of the State's best interests. His new commission is dated March 21, and states that the appointment is made for the term prescribed by law. His new bond will be filed at the next meeting of the board which will be held Thursday morning. The appointment is, of course, subject to confirmation by the next legislature which will doubtless act favorably, for Dennison has always been a strong advocate for permanent water-front improvements and honest work.

DR. COOK NOT ABOARD.
MOBILE, Ala., March 28.—The local wireless office today received a dispatch saying that Dr. Frederick A. Cook was not on board the fruit steamer Abangarez en route from Colon to New Orleans.

A HARD STRUGGLE

Many an Oakland and East Oakland Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching, with distressing urinary disorders, daily existence is but a struggle.

No person can keep up with

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

East Oakland people endorse this claim.

Mrs. William Johns, 534 Kennedy street, East Oakland, Cal., says: "Sixteen years ago, when living in Australia, my attention was first called to Doan's Kidney Pills. At that time I was afflicted with kidney complaint, caused by the impure drinking water in that country. I had sharp, darting pains in my back and I always felt tired and languid. Headaches and dizzy spells distressed me and at times when I was sitting down, I almost fell from the chair. My eyes became so much affected that I was obliged to wear glasses. The doctor, a Dr. C. J. Doan, recommended Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me. I was in bad shape. Much to my satisfaction the use of this preparation helped me from the first and was encouraged to continue taking it until I was entirely cured. Since then my back has been strong and free from pain and my kidneys have not troubled me in the least. Doan's Kidney Pills also acted satisfactorily in another case in our family, bringing relief from a bad attack of kidney complaint. I know of a number of people who have taken this remedy, and all speak favorably of it."

for Incurables to Obtain Building Funds.

Invitations have been issued by the members of the King's Daughters of California Home for Incurables' Circle for their annual Easter reception, which will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home, 3800 Broadway. According to the announcement, the function will be open to all who are interested in the splendid work of alleviating the suffering of the unfortunate persons.

Upon that occasion a musical and literary program will be given and presided over by Mrs. F. F. Hager. Among the members who will contribute are the Misses Sherman, who will give a piano and guitar selection; Miss Jean Gekle, soprano solo; Mrs. H. M. Hastings, reading; Mrs. G. V. Varney, piano, and Mrs. F. F. Hager, vocal selection.

The board of directors, who will assist in receiving the guests, is composed of the following: Mrs. Martha Brown, Mrs. C. Clay, Mrs. A. H. Hill, Mrs. H. C. Conner, Mrs. Adam Gilliland, Mrs. H. Tenny, Mrs. G. A. Willard, Mrs. I. M. Van Slyke, Mrs. C. B. Morgan, Mrs. E. J. Brown and Mrs. F. E. Lester.

CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS.

The directors say, owing to the crowded conditions now existing, they must go on with the erection of their new building, and in order to obtain the means required for this purpose, they will inaugurate a campaign.

The good people of Oakland will respond liberally to this worthy cause when they are called upon for financial assistance. The women who head the home have been working for many years to bring the hospital up to its present standard, and since the fire of 1906 the main building of the home has been inadequate for the needs of the incurables, who are suffering from incurable maladies.

GIVES UP WEALTH.

After settling in Boston he opened up several mills and engaged in his enterprise as a grain adjudger, a wealthy man, but he willingly gave up his prospects, entering the service as master's mate of the famed old steamer Masonic, destined to become the "ironclad" of the North Atlantic blockade during the Civil War.

As the war progressed he was placed in charge of a captured ship sailing for Buford, North Carolina, and just out of port encountered a vessel which shot him and left Captain Knowlton a cripple for life. For one whole year he was confined to his bed at the Union hospital camp in North Carolina. His injuries finally healed in the parlor of his mother's lower part of his body, and during later years in total blindness.

In 1864, despairing of regaining his health, he begged permission to resign his commission, which was at once granted. In view of his special services and it was not until a year later that his Lost Fortune for Sake of Country and Answered Call to War.

The death of Captain George K. Knowlton, member of Appomattox Post No. 50, Grand Army of the Republic, has cast a pall of gloom over preparations for the convention of the aged veterans to be held in San Francisco May 15, and a resolution of sorrow is to be adopted at the initial executive session of that body.

Captain Knowlton, who passed away at his home in this city about a few days ago, was a man of suffering as the result of injuries sustained in the War of the Rebellion, was one of the most noteworthy figures of that period, and was held in deepest regard by the veterans he met, most of whom knew him personally.

The end came late in life for the old soldier, his eightieth birthday having been the incentive to a visitation by the members of the Grand Army posts February 28 of this year. Captain Knowlton had a varied career, interesting episodes in his life being closely interwoven with the history of the union.

WORKED IN MILL.

He was born in Salem, Mass., in 1820, and in his boyhood assisted his father in the oil mill, running the mill working on the first steam engines operated in America. Later the family moved to Buffalo and Detroit, and at the age of 10 the son went to sea, landing on the William Loring. Later he plied on the William Loring, that vessel, which was extensively used in the slave traffic between Wilmington and Charleston. He came to California in 1851, having made the long and almost unbelievable voyage of 25 cents a month. Arriving here, wage of $25 a month called him, and after a few years he acquired a certain amount of money, such as he had earned and operated in the far eastern state of his birth presented themselves, and he opened up a factory and San Francisco, and to the wealth and San Francisco, and to his charity and generosity to less fortunate settlers.

During the cholera scare of 1850, which nearly depopulated that city, he was struck by the ravages and, after a long search, discovered to find much of his fortune swept away and many of his old friends missing. His business failed steadily for a time, and in 1852 he was again forced to go to sea, shipping out more before the mast, and when the United States fleet under Perry opened Japanese ports, he was made a captain on the Mississippi.

RETURNS AGAIN.

After two years on the water Captain Knowlton returned to San Francisco for a second time in 1855, opening a small grocery store in the city. Later he settled in San Antonio, a town on the Brooklyn basin, which is now but a dim memory in the minds of a host of old settlers, and taking care of his wife and son, he became the patriarch of Adoption, was a foremost promoter in the establishment of the township Clinton, a suburb of San Antonio, which was located where the east entrance of the eleventh-street dam in East Oakland is now.

During the mining boom in Brazil the old pioneer again pulled up stakes and, with a party of gold seekers left for the Amazon river, arriving in Santos, Brazil, he once more put to sea on a vessel from Hampton Roads, under the command of an old schoolmate and friend of his brother. Arriving in Santos he settled in Boston, Mass., living in Massachusetts when the roar of the cannon sounded from Fort Sumpter, summoned him to battle with thousands of other volunteers who gave up home, fortune and family to answer the call.

GOING ON.

After settling in Boston he opened up another mill and engaged in his enterprise as a grain adjudger, a wealthy man, but he willingly gave up his prospects, entering the service as master's mate of the famed old steamer Masonic, destined to become the "ironclad" of the North Atlantic blockade during the Civil War.

As the war progressed he was placed in charge of a captured ship sailing for Buford, North Carolina, and just out of port encountered a vessel which shot him and left Captain Knowlton a cripple for life. For one whole year he was confined to his bed at the Union hospital camp in North Carolina. His injuries finally healed in the parlor of his mother's lower part of his body, and during later years in total blindness.

In 1864, despairing of regaining his health, he begged permission to resign his commission, which was at once granted. In view of his special services and it was not until a year later that his demise.

The old speaker again pulled up stakes and, with the exception of five, all potters in this section are closed today, the result of the strike of 2500 dippers and 3000 girl employees, who ask higher pay. The girls are unorganized.

We are in for this municipal water enterprise and shall have to see it through, whatever it costs, if we can borrow the money. There may be more trouble about that than we expected. New York City 4% per cent bonds have just been bid for at from 100.336 to 101.204. And New York bonds would probably sell rather higher than ours. Probably, however, we can get the money, but nobody knows how much money we shall need. We need an enormous near-by storage capacity, not included in our city estimates, and reservoir sites in the vicinity of large cities come high, as we shall discover in due time—if we can discover the sites. But, aside from that and conceding the ability and good faith of the engineers who have made the estimates, we do not believe that any one can now tell the cost of a system which will be ten years in building. We cannot foretell prices of labor and materials or what unexpected natural obstacles may develop. Los Angeles authorized a bond issue of $23,000,000 to bring water from Inyo county to that city, and it is stated that half the money has been used and the work not nearly half done, so that there is a good deal of anxiety in the southern city lest their water is to cost a great deal more money than was counted on. But they must have water. So must we. And, having engaged in the enterprise, our only course is to muddle through and foot the bills, whatever they are.

*Success Assured
Coming Theater
Party at Liberty*

MISS MARIE COURTNEY, chairman of arrangements
committee for Las Amistades theater party.

ALAMEDA, March 28.—Miss Marie Courtney is the chairman of the arrangements for the Las Amistades theater party, to be given at the Liberty theater on the evening of Tuesday, March 29th. The Las Amistades Club is a charitable organization of St. Joseph's Church and its members comprise many of the young women of this city.

Great interest has been manifested in the coming theater party and the excellence of the production, "Cameo Kirby," insures a large attendance.

Among the members of the club who have been working for the success of the theater party are the Misses Mercedes Mendizabal, Julia Hilton, Rose Flanagan, Mario Ross, Hazel Smith, Minnie Ewing, Rosalie, Grace Meyers, Anna Flanagan and Gertrude Winters. The proceeds of the affair will be devoted to charity.

DEATH CALLS FOR MRS. GOODFELLOW

Pioneer Woman Succumbs
After Long Illness—Spent an Active Life.

After a long illness Mrs. Anna A. Goodfellow, wife of the late Milton Goodfellow, died yesterday morning at the family residence, 1353 Webster street. For the past four and a half years Mrs. Goodfellow had been confined to her bed with paralysis and during her illness she had been given the utmost care at the hands of a nurse and her children, who did all they could to prolong her life, which was at least due to her relatives and friends.

For the past 40 years she had lived in this city where she had many friends who rallied to her bed-side during her sickness. She was loved by all who knew her and her loyalty and sincerity to them were admirable traits which were pronounced in her life. She was self-sacrificing and in all charitable causes she was always willing to lend a helping hand. She was an active worker in the First Presbyterian Church of this city up to the time of her illness.

In 1888 she came to California from Madison, Wis., and passed some time in Downeyville, where her children were born. Later she came to this city, where she took active part in the social circles.

The late Mrs. Goodfellow was born in Pennsylvania, where she was reared and educated. It was in that state she married the late Mr. Goodfellow, mining engineer of California, who died some twenty years ago. Both came to California soon after the discovery of gold and enjoyed prosperity.

Four children were born, three of whom survive Mrs. Goodfellow, Miss Eddie Goodfellow, Mrs. G. W. Fish of Los Angeles and a son, Dr. G. E. Goodfellow.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the Goodfellow residence on Webster street.

FIRE DOES $1000
DAMAGE IN SHOP

Flames Burn Tailor's Stock on Thirteenth Street Before
Discovery Is Made.

Fire causing damage amounting to $1000 broke out in a mysterious manner in the ladies tailoring establishment of Donner Brothers, 4664 Thirteenth street, shortly after three o'clock yesterday afternoon. The arrival of the fire department quickly quenched the flames which had evidently been burning for some time before the alarm was given, as bolts of cloth were found almost entirely consumed.

Donner Brothers are located on the second story of a building owned by Mrs. J. G. Grigsby. On the ground floor of the building is A. Beretta, the optician; Mrs. R. Mott's millinery store, and the Maplewood Inn are located. These establishments were damaged slightly by water.

Donner Brothers' store had been closed all day and the fire department can not discover the origin of the blaze.

BANKER FAILS WHEN ASKED TO IDENTIFY GRAFTER

Seward's Memory Proves Defective in Test During Insurance Investigation.

'TIM' SULLIVAN INCIDENT MAY NEVER BE EXPLAINED

Three Browns at Sing Sing and Witness Couldn't Recall Which Made Proposal.

NEW YORK. March 28.—William H. Buckley, whose testimony so far has been the most significant and important adduced at the hearing, was summoned to appear again as a witness today when the insurance investigation was resumed. Another witness was Edward A. Brown of Middletown, who was State purchasing agent at Sing Sing prison at the time George F. Seward, president of the Fidelity and Casualty Company, testified he visited Sing Sing prison and was told by a man named Brown that $10,000 paid to State Senator Timothy D. Sullivan would satisfactorily adjust some insurance legislative matters.

THREE BROWNS THERE. There were three Browns connected with the prison at the time. One of these was the warden, to whom Mr. Seward declared he did not refer. Both the other Browns have denied ever meeting Seward.

Mr. Brown, who said that at present he was keeping a hotel at Middletown, was the first witness today. He testified that he never had talked with Mr. Seward or any one else about legislation affecting the insurance.

CAN NOT IDENTIFY. Mr. Seward declared, "that I am not morally certain that he is the man. I never saw him except on that day and I cannot identify him with absolute certainty."

Mr. Seward denied that he knew anything of the payment of money to legislators in connection with the bill.

Wm. H. Buckley, who received so many thousand dollars from the insurance companies as their legislative agent and who was the last witness on Saturday, then resumed his testimony.

Mr. Hotchkiss read a copy of an order served on the National Commercial Bank of Albany from Buckley forbidding the officials of the bank to reveal to any one the record of his transactions with the institution.

WANTS BUCKLEY'S RECORD.

Mr. Hotchkiss had previously asked the bank's officers to prepare a record of Buckley's transactions with the bank from 1890 to 1903. This was the bank in which Buckley testified he deposited the checks he received from the insurance companies.

Another of Buckley's clients shown was the Prussian Life Insurance company. Mr. Buckley got $1250 after he had obtained permission of the company to do business in this country.

Mr. Buckley, resuming his testimony, said that of the $1250 he got from the Prussian Life he paid $550 to former Judge A. J. Danher for legal services.

NEW WAGE SCALE CAUSE OF STRIKE

Richmond Carpenters to Fight
For Salary of Five Dollars Per Day

RICHMOND. March 28.—Because he refused to comply with the new wage scale, voted on by the carpenters' union of this city, to go into effect Friday, assuring he would not complicate his bookkeeping in the middle of a week by changing the pay roll, a crew of carpenters employed by Contractor James Cruskishank of this city are out on strike and work on some fourteen houses he is building is delayed.

Cruskshank regards the matter as a joke, saying he can hire carpenters from the Oakland unions at four dollars a day, while the new wage scale of the Richmond men is five. He claims that he is willing to pay in the new scale later, but will not change his bookkeeping arrangements in the middle of the week. Other contractors in Richmond have agreed to the new scale.

Postpones the Case Against Chinamen

Owing to the unavoidable absence of Attorney Frank Drew of San Francisco, the defense attorney, Superior Judge Brown this afternoon postponed further consideration of the District Attorney's motion to dismiss the robbery case against Leung Kok, Lee Toon and Low Yen of the On Yick Tong, until this afternoon at 1 o'clock. This is the case in which Yee Gee, the prosecuting witness, and Deputy Constable George C. Starr are accused of perjury by the district attorney's office, and the latter of "framing up" the case against the On Yicks, and of improper medical practice. It was called for argument on the demurrer to the second indictment, counsel for the defendant stated to the court that Dr. Burke had been ill, but would be able to appear by tomorrow. Judge Seawall thereupon continued the matter until tomorrow morning.

Commercial Library to Answer Questions

Under the direction of A. J. Snyder, chairman of the library committee of the organization, President Walter Mackay and Secretary A. A. Denison, a new reference library is being installed in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, containing data on Oakland's commercial and business facilities. This library is composed of reports of committees, and all magazine articles dealing with Oakland and its manufacturing operations. A lookout for all magazine articles on Oakland is being kept, and these will all be placed in the new library.

A filing system for cataloguing these works is being devised by the secretary's office. The library will be used for answering inquiries from eastern inventors and writers looking for data on the city.

Oakland Churches Observe Easter Festival With Music

MEMBERS OF TRINITY CHOIR WHO TOOK PART IN THE EASTER MUSICAL PROGRAM.

With oratorio music, prayer and sermon the Easter festival was observed yesterday in all the churches of this city. Despite the inclement weather, the churches were all well attended and the pews were filled with men and women who had waited for the occasion to don their best attire, in which were very elaborate and becoming.

At both the morning and evening services the attendance was splendid, and all the church-gongs were given an opportunity to have musical programs of rare beauty. The organ and voices of choirs of several mixed vocal training under the direction of Alexander Stewart.

It was sung in the English text to the theme "Trifluation." The soloists were George G. Nichols, tenor; Mrs. Carroll Nicholson, contralto; Howard E. Pratt, tenor; H. D. Mustard, baritone; Miss Virginia de Fremery, organist.

In the Episcopal church the festal service was held with organ prelude of wondrous and spiritual vocal selection by prominent soloists. In the Methodist Episcopal church the rejoicing over the Risen Christ was exemplified with prayer and anthems sung by chorus choir.

The Catholic church choirs of the churches were decked with lilies. The procession of worshippers as they marched into the different sanctuaries presented a picture of beauty.

The Muckrake and Immortality.

From his seat in the House of Representatives Hon. Julius Kahn has addressed an eloquent reproof to "muckrakers" who make a business of blackening the reputations of men who distinguish themselves in the service of their country. The way our most eminent public men are maligned and traduced is disgraceful, Mr. Kahn declared, and is a grave discredit to the American press.

What has moved Mr. Kahn to this zealous and valiant championship of the name and fame of distinguished Americans it does not behoove us to inquire, but he is unquestionably correct in saying that the men who have given this country the greatest and most patriotic service have been the very ones who have been most grossly maligned and lampooned; their motives have been malignantly impeached; their characters aspersed and their acts misrepresented. But if Mr. Kahn has not forgotten his lines he will remember that slander loves a shining mark. So does death, for that matter; and sometimes the eulogies over the dead are as destitute of veracity as the stories told about the living. However, no man is wholly good or wholly bad, and there are none so pure and wise as not to have at sometime made mistakes and given way to the sins of the flesh. Nevertheless, it is true that our greatest men have been the most abused.

None has escaped. Our most illustrious patriots, our most eminent statesmen, our most renowned warriors have been the targets for ridicule, slander, falsehood and vilification. Only the obscure escape the shafts of envy and malice; partisan detraction never assails those who render no service, who do not lead, who do not give evidence of uncommon talents and who do not make themselves felt as a force in whatever field of endeavor they select for their activities. The nobler the game the more noisy and persistent the pursuit of the hounds. It has ever been so, even will be so; in other countries as well as in our own. Lustre attracts the daubers.

Our national heroes of the Revolutionary epoch suffered even worse than the public men of today. Washington, Jefferson, Adams, John Jay, Alexander Hamilton, John Marshall and John Hancock were held up in their time as sordid, scheming rogues thriving on their country's misfortunes and making opportunities for themselves in the powers granted by the people. If anyone desires to know of the baseless malignity of that early time let him read the memoirs of Alexander Maclay and the pasquinades of Philip Freneau.

Andrew Jackson was pictured as a frontier ruffian, a satyr, a murderer and a violator of all the commandments. Webster, Clay and Calhoun were pelted with calumny and detraction. Even the most distinguished men of letters in their time did not hesitate to ascribe to these statesmen the basest of motives, and the ignoblest of vices.

To Abraham Lincoln was applied every term of opprobrium that scorn, hatred and prejudice could suggest. Horace Greeley, who afterward broke himself under a storm of vindictive denunciation, did not spare him. His poverty, obscure antecedents, his lack of early education and the disabilities imposed by privation and squalor in youth were hurled in his teeth with tigerish ferocity. Yet the muck cast around him has fertilized his fame and emphasized his greatness.

Grant suffered scarcely less. For years he was pursued with a rancor that seems hardly credible now. Even the finer qualities of his character, his loyalty to his friends and his firm faith in mankind, were turned against him, represented to be evidences of dissolute habits, unworthy associations and venal motives. For years Charles A. Dana, who afterward excelled all others in abusing Grover Cleveland, prostituted his splendid talents to defame the Generalissimo of the Republic. Dana's malice was not sated when the General died, nor was his pity and magnanimity stirred by the commander's misfortunes and sufferings. When Grant died Dana preached a vulpine philippic over his grave.

Among our noble dead Cleveland is the latest example of the abused statesman. He was charged with all sorts of offenses, from beating his wife to selling his country to Pierpont Morgan. Even the size of his neck was made the theme of scurrilous wit, and the privacy of his home was invaded by feminine furies of a hostile press seeking material for defaming the head of the government. Yet Mr. Cleveland's memory shines in splendor. Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Grant stand highest in our national pantheon. Posteriority has done justice to their motives and characters and holds in unstinted gratitude the services they rendered.

But why should Mr. Kahn complain? He has not been abused for being great. His Hyperion locks are not yet crowned with the bays of immortality nor sullied with the spoil of the muckrake. The distinguished dead need no defense. As for the living—why, they will have to take their medicine. The dose will be light for Mr. Kahn, happily.

Oakland's bank clearings continue to jump up. When the weather becomes settled they will bound up still faster.

Principles and Their Application.

The faction of the Republican party calling themselves the Lincoln-Roosevelt League have laid down a set of "principles" which they have no mind to follow. Indeed they broke the crust before the pie was baked. But it is barely possible that they have submitted the code of "principles" as a test of the virtue of the others—their own being fireproof and gold-plated. For instance, they lay down these propositions:

1. That nomination by convention should be abolished.
2. That secret caucuses are the chief sources of political corruption and should be frowned upon as evidences of evil intent and unholy alliances.
3. That voting the proxies of absentees should not be permitted.

But the brethren who laid down this splendid code of political morals promptly proceeded to violate them singly and en masse. They nominated a ticket, and did it by secret caucus at which proxies were voted. The delegates to this remarkable convention were all appointed by one man, Chester Rowell, and are called together from time to time to ratify the nominations as fast as Mr. Rowell makes them.

This remarkable nominating convention conducts its business in strict privacy and comes together at such times and places as its chairman, progenitor and director-general deems convenient and proper. It has never been given authority by the voters. Originally it was appointed as an organizing committee, but it speedily resolved itself into a nominating convention transacting its business in secret caucus and carrying out pre-arranged programmes by voting the proxies of absentee members.

Evidently the "principles" of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League do not count betwixt the men who promulgated them.

Another Outrage on Justice Provokes Righteous Indignation

Postoffice Burglars Escape With $30,000

Pierce Vault, Despite Watchman, and Cart Away the Stamps in Wagon.

RICHMOND, Va., March 28.—Under the glare of a street lamp robbers backed a wagon up to the door of the Richmond postoffice, either on Sunday or Sunday night, pierced the vault with drills and escaped with more than $30,000 in stamps and $160 in cash.

The watchman in the building was undisturbed. The office had been unoccupied since 6 o'clock Saturday evening. When a clerk opened the doors this morning the robbery was discovered.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The postoffice at Richmond is the depositary for all the fourth-class and presidential post offices in the State of Virginia. Remittances are made to the treasury at Washington every few days.

Great Fissures Open On Side of Vesuvius

Smoke Pours From Volcano and the Mountain Threatens to Spread Death.

NAPLES, March 28.—Five fissures near the central crater of Mount Vesuvius opened today with terrific roar.

A great volume of smoke poured out from the rents in the mountain, but the first eruption was not accompanied by lava flow.

Scientists here believe that the activity of Vesuvius is caused by the subsidence of Mount Aetna in Sicily. They are uncertain, however, whether Aetna is permanently at rest. Many believe that ashes and rocks have clogged the crater, and that possibly a great eruption will occur when the volcano subsides on the Aetna.

Rushing accompanies the outbreak of Vesuvius, and inhabitants of towns near the mountain are preparing to flee.

Johnson Wants Name Removed From Report

Declares Finding of Kling Commission Did Not Have His Signature.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., March 28.—Ban G. Johnson, president of the American League, this afternoon declared that he had ordered that his name be removed from the finding of the national commission in the matter of the reinstatement of Chester John Kling. Johnson said his name had been placed upon the finding without his authority.

Mrs. Longworth Left Share in Big Estate

Roosevelt's Eldest Daughter Is Willed Legacy by Banker Grandfather.

BOSTON, March 28.—Mrs. Nicholas Longworth is a beneficiary in the will of her late grandfather, Geo. C. Lee, a wealthy banker of this city, who died recently. The will, which was filed for probate today, directs that the income of one-half of the estate be divided among half a dozen relatives, of whom former President Roosevelt's eldest daughter is one. The estate is valued at several million dollars.

Commission Reduces Flour Freight Rates

Millers Complaint of Discrimination Bears Fruit After Long Investigation.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered the lake and rail rates on flour from Annapolis to New York city and the Atlantic seaboard reduced from 23 cents per 100 pounds to 21½ cents, beginning May 10.

The complainants were some forty millers operating more than 100 flour mills in the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, with a daily capacity of about 125,000 barrels. The defendant carriers were all the railroads and water lines which ship flour from Minneapolis-Duluth to the Atlantic seaboard territory. The millers complained that the rate of 23 cents was unreasonable and discriminatory.

The commission reviews the grand absorption of the Great Lakes transportation lines by the railroads, compares the differences in rates on flour and wheat and orders the reduction to 21½ f. o. b.

Oil Steamer Atlas Saved by Wireless

Air-Borne Dispatch Brings Relief When Craft Is Drifting at the Sea's Mercy.

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Captain Olsen of the freighter Nam Smith which arrived today from Coos Bay, reports the saving of the Standard Oil Company's tank steamer, Atlas, from disaster by means of the wireless telegraph.

The Atlas was drifting helplessly off Oregon last Friday, having lost her propeller. Use of the wireless by Captain Olsen brought prompt assistance from the tanker Ascension, also of the Standard fleet.

Captain Bridgett of the Ascension quickly located the disabled vessel drifting helplessly at the mercy of the wind and currents and passed a bawser aboard.

Captain Olsen received wireless at sea telling of the mishap and rescue of the Atlas. Both tankers had left San Francisco for Portland a few hours apart.

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

Judge Leander Quint, one of the best known men in the State and a veteran judge in Tuolumne county, dropped dead from heart disease this morning on the street. His most notable legal case at the bar was that of Laura de Fair, accused of the murder of A. P. Chittenden, a popular lawyer. In the first trial the woman was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. On a new trial she was acquitted.

Messages from the bedside of Remi Chabot report him as unconscious and not likely to live but a few days at the most. He is unconscious and suffering from sort of a drooping complaint.

Councilman John Hackett and City Clerk Prudly were the heroes in a midnight encounter with a man who was attacking Lilly De Lisle, daughter of Mrs. S. I. Reaves, known on the stage as Millie Hudson. A man followed her to a lonely spot and it was her cries for help which aroused the councilman and city clerk.

MAYOR MOTT TALKS WATER TO MAYOR NOY

Mayor Frank K. Mott has been discussing the matter of purchasing the Peoples Water Company's plant to supply water to Oakland and Alameda. For some time the mayor has been discussing the water question in its various phases.

Mott has taken the matter up with Mayor Noy of Alameda and together they have discussed the proposition of having municipal ownership for both Oakland and Alameda.

Mayor Noy stated to a TRIBUNE man that he had discussed the municipal ownership proposition with Mayor Mott. Noy, however, has not given the matter much consideration. He does not know yet whether it would be advisable to go into municipal ownership of the Peoples' water in view of the fact that Tevis is now offering Alameda a water proposition.

Wants U. S. Transports for a Steamship Line

Congressman McLachlan Takes Up the Question With Secretary of War Dickinson.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Representative McLachlan of California today took up with Secretary of War Dickinson the question of utilizing army transports on the Pacific Coast to establish a Government steamship line to be connected by the Panama railroad with the Government-owned line on the eastern coast. Mr. McLachlan has discovered that five of the eighteen Government transports are now idle in the ports of New York and San Francisco, and might be substantially completed with all the nations of the world, with results that were satisfactory.

The President stated that upon consulting the members of the tariff board he found that to carry out the purpose announced in his annual message it would be necessary to have an appropriation by the Congress, immediately available for the current and next fiscal years, of $250,000.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—In a special message to Congress today President Taft informed that body that under the power granted in the Panama-Pacific Act, negotiations under the maximum and minimum clause of the act were substantially completed with all the nations of the world, with results that were satisfactory.

The President stated that upon consulting the members of the tariff board he found that to carry out the purpose announced in his annual message it would be necessary to have an appropriation by the Congress, immediately available for the current and next fiscal years, of $250,000.

Montgomery, Ala., March 28.—The aeroplane being used by the Wright brothers fell today from a height of 300 feet but struck easily in soft plough-ground. Orville Wright, who was up, was not hurt, nor the machine injured, the desert being, in a measure, under control.

NOMINATES KENTUCKIAN.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—President Taft today sent to the Senate the following nomination: Member of Isthmian Canal Commission—Maurice H. Thatcher.

AVIATOR AND MACHINE UNINJURED BY A DROP OF ONE HUNDRED FEET.

Wright Escapes Death When Aeroplane Falls.

Aviator and Machine Uninjured by a Drop of One Hundred Feet.

FATALLY INJURED IN FALL OF SIXTY FEET.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Precipitated from the top of a sixty foot pile driver, at Battery and Market streets, Albert Isaacson, mechanician, was fatally injured at 1:30 this afternoon. Isaacson stepped on a loose plank, which gave way beneath him, hurling him among some debris in the lot which is being prepared for buildings. He struck on his left side, crushing all of his ribs, one of which penetrated the lung. He was removed to the Harbor Emergency hospital and treated by Dr. Tillman.

Attorney Disbarred on Fraud Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—William Daftor of Los Angeles was disbarred from practicing law before the courts of this state, on a charge that he fraudulently represented to a client that he was entitled to appear before Southern District of California.

Deposed Chiefs' Cases Given to Murasky

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—The case of Battalion Chiefs S. D. Russell, James M. F. Farley, who have been serving as commissioners, and the successors appointed by the latter board from replacing them in office, was submitted to Superior Judge Murasky this morning after a long argument.

FINDS A SOLUTION TO RIDDLE SPHINX

Ideal of Womanhood Stronger
in Man, Declares English Authoress.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The ideal of womanhood is stronger in man than it is in woman, and only when woman comes up to that ideal does she properly fill her part in the scheme of existence. And the woman soul in man—that is the pure and spiritual—must waken before the man can truly love a woman who is a true woman." Such is the solution of Riddle Sphinx as stated in an interview here by Mrs. N. Wilson, the English writer, who claims to have mastered that great secret of the desert.

This is the foundation of the doctrine of real morality, which Mrs. Wilson advocates. Included in this doctrine is the idea that marriage should be a pure union unaffected by any justification of expedience. She says:

"In reality, when two people do not love each other the sooner they get a divorce the better. The main trouble lies in teaching them to want a divorce, not because each loves some one else, but because the purity of their ideals is endangered through a loveless union. But in any case, anything is better than the ties of expediency. I consider the divorce laws of America infinitely preferable to the more conservative divorce laws of England."

Chantecler Bonnet Upset the Canoe

NEWTON, Mass., March 28.—Miss Hilda Larkin of Cambridge was near death yesterday with a young man who refused to give his name, when the canoe in which they were boating upset on the Charles river.

The upset was caused by a quick gust of wind blowing the new Chantecler bonnet which adorned Miss Larkin's head. The wide rim acted like a sail when struck by the squall and the two occupants of the canoe were left struggling in the stream.

"Too many hapines," remarked Miss Larkin, laughingly, after the accident.

SOUR STOMACH

"I used Cascarets and feel like a new man. I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia and sour stomach for the last two years. I have been taking medicine and other drugs, but could find no relief only for a short time. I will recommend Cascarets to my friends as the only thing for indigestion and sour stomach and to keep the bowels in good condition. They are very nice to eat."

A SALARY OF THIRTY DOLLARS A YEAR FOR WALKING A BLOCK A DAY

Osgood, the Druggist, Offers to Give $30,000 a Year to One Thousand Smokers for Walking One Block a day—Only Provision Is That They Buy Their Cigars of Him at Regular Retail Prices

"Do you see that fellow walking out of the door?" said Fred Osgood, as he stood in front of the cigar department of his Twelfth and Washington street store? "This morning I offered him a salary of $30.00 a year for walking a block a day. He has his offices in the Bacon Block and is a smoker of about one hundred cigars a month. He has been paying the regular price for his cigars, but having noticed my advertisements, just dropped in to see what we could give him at our cut rates. I figured that the cigar department of my Washington street store was less than half a block from his office door and that he would make the round trip every day by walking less than a block. I told him that if he would come in here every day and buy four cigars and pay me the same price that he has been paying for the last ten years, which was 12½¢ a smoke, would pay him a salary of $30 a year for his trouble, and guaranteed to give him the same satisfaction that he has been receiving from our establishments in Oakland. Of course, he will not accept my proposition for the reason that he can just as well take advantage of my cut rate prices and save this money from day to day; but at the same time my offer rather surprised him at first; it is a splendid example of how continued small savings figure up. Ten cents a day is what a smoker of four cigars per day saves by purchasing his smokers of me, and if any man wants to know what this would amount to in ten years if put into a savings bank, he will find the answer will surprise him."

Osgood has for years made a practice of selling drugs and general dry goods at cut rate prices, and the aggressive way in which he is

Arthur Dunn Here to Lead
Headliner Bill at Orpheum

ARTHUR DUNN and MARIE GLAZIER at the Oakland Orpheum.

Little men, of course, can never hope to be drum majors, nor to dazzle the feminine folk with their magnificence physique, but there are some compensations, at that—they can be pretty fine makers. Take Arthur Dunn, for example.

Arthur is a tiny chap—a very tiny chap. His inches are few—he would never stand out in a crowd. Indeed, he might be stepped on. Almost anything might happen to him in a mob. Very few people would rave over him on the street. On the stage it is very, very different. Just because he is a tiny little chap, he becomes "out." He is a messenger boy in the skit that he appears in at the Oakland Orpheum and such a messenger boy! He looks the part—he is the part—he is the real thing. Fun radiates from Mr. Dunn in his messenger boy role very much as Easter merriment makes a milliner's window radiant.

We have with us this week at the Orpheum another one of those clever fellows, a proper successor to Walter G. Kelly. In the person of Mr. William Gould, Mr. Gould assumes no character other than that of a very clever chap who wears evening clothes and tells cracking good stories and tells them in very neat style. Gould is an unctuous citizen. One would say that his digestion probably is perfect. That is one of his assets. Naturally the crowd yesterday, without realizing just how it happened, found itself in prime good humor, both with Mr. Gould and with Arthur.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES MARK PROCEEDINGS FOR LARGE NEW STRUCTURE

Mayor Mott Makes Address and Introduces Wallace M. Alexander, Who Officially
Places Big Block of Granite

"Behold I lay in Zion a chief cornerstone elect—precious—and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded."

AUDIENCE JOINS IN.
The audience then rose and sang, "Hail Firm a Foundation" and the Rev. J. Vosburg gave the invocation, followed by responsive reading lead by the Rev. F. L. Goodspeed and the singing, "Rock of Ages," after which the Rev. Charles R. Brown led in prayer.

Henry J. McCoy, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in San Francisco and corresponding secretary for North America, brought the greeting of the greater body. He said in part:

"Young men and boys are the greatest asset which a city may hold and I am glad that Oakland, through the liberality of her citizens, is to have such a pleasant home for her young men. It is not true that the Club is drifting more into the club life and away from the religious. The Y. M. C. A. is the church—the outcome of growth and spread of the doctrine of Jesus Christ."

The ceremonies which attended the laying of the stone were appropriately held on Easter Sunday, for they fittingly marked a new era in the history of an organization which for several years lay in an almost dormant state but suddenly aroused by the infusion of new energy and a spirit imbued with deeper and broader determination that a great work should not be allowed to lie idle in a community which stands for all that is progressive and beneficial.

PARADE IS PROMPT.

Undeterred by the threatening clouds and the frequent patter of raindrops, a host numbering several hundred assembled at the headquarters of the Y. M. C. A. in Maple Hall promptly at 1:30 and headed by Jordan's band, marched four abreast to the site of the new structure at Twenty-first street and Telegraph avenue. The band played "Onward Christian Soldiers," and during the processionals many joined the ranks, which wended their course through the streets to the First Baptist Church, where the preliminary services were held. Many awaited their coming and the church was filled to overflow with friends and followers of the great work which is being accomplished.

ONE OUT OF A HUNDRED.

In exemplifying the work which is going on throughout the country he said the Oakland Y. M. C. A. was but one of 100 to be built this year in North America, calling for an outlay of $1,000,000. "This means they will be rising at the rate of one building every eight hours, and each and every one of them will stand as a character factory."

The Rev. Clarence A. Barbour, D. D., of New York and international secretary, was the next speaker. He paid a high tribute to McCoy when he characterized him as "the foremost layman in San Francisco."

"It is more than I deserve," said Mr. McCoy, turning to Secretary Starrett, but from the admiring glances turned in his direction it was evident that he was the only one who thought so. For many a young man about the bay has directly owed his success in life to the advice and guiding hand of this veteran leader.

Dr. Barbour pointed out that during the crisis of the great fire it was the Y. M. C. A. which was foremost in welcoming the men at every port where they touched, its complete machine having been placed at their disposal. He said that Oakland was but getting into line with other cities of the country and enumerated several instances where sums aggregating millions were to be expended in such structures. Among them were Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland, Boston and others, each of which is to spend $1,000,000 or more. In the town of Phoenix, Arizona, where but $60,000 was asked for, the people generously raised $10,000, and in this sum was the contribution of eleven tribes of Indians. This went to show that the work which is going on is being appreciated to the extent of magnitude.

PURPOSE OF Y. M. C. A.

"The institution," said he, "has an ideal for the character of the men who come within its influence, within its walls. It has in view a lasting good for them, not for a day or for a year, but for a lifetime."

"As between a man and the man who has it locked in reserve, give me the man who guards his heart. He is not

ATTORNEY WITTER OUT WITH DENIAL

Money Paid Before Conversation
Was Had With Leach,
He Declares.

In reference to the statement published in THE TRIBUNE yesterday, as follows: "According to Abe Leach, attorney for McCready, who appeared with his client before the commissioners this morning, George E. Witter, attorney for Pesas, said at the time the money was paid to Pesas that that was all that was necessary to have the case dropped." Mr. Witter said in an interview this morning:

"I never had any conversation with Abe Leach about the Pesas or McCready matter until long after the money had been paid by McCready, and then with no reference whatever to the purpose for which it was paid. And I never told anyone that the matter would be dropped, but have constantly urged the Chief of Police to take the matter before the police commission, have spoken to the mayor about the matter and have placed all the facts before the district attorney's office."

"More than that, when McCready called upon me to pay the money, I told him that we would offer him no inducement whatever to pay this money. Mr. McCready first demanded my personal receipt, which I refused. I was asked for a receipt from Pesas for all demands, which I also refused. I suggested that I would give him a receipt for $187 received from James Pesas, which was delivered to me."

Mother Leaves Baby to the Care of Sister

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Minnie Lounes, a waitress, on returning to her home at 3275 Sixteenth street, yesterday morning, found that her sister Mary, who had been living with her there, had deserted her three-weeks-old baby and gone back home. Mary's child was born at the Hahnemann Hospital, and the young woman later went to live with her sister.

The waitress, knowing of no person to whom to confide yesterday, went to the Central Emergency Hospital with the child. She was sent to police headquarters. There she was told to take the child home and care for it until she could communicate with her mother as to its disposition.

This cornerstone well and truly laid."

With heads still uncovered the audience of 2000 persons sang "America," accompanied by a cornet. The Rev. George W. White pronounced the benediction, thus terminating the ceremonies for the day.

The building, for which funds amounting to $210,000 were raised in ten days through subscription and donation in this city alone, will be rushed to completion as soon as possible. It will be complete in time to receive the first members of the association. It will be complete in detail and contain many features which will contribute to the welfare and comfort of the members of the association.

MAY LEASE WATER SITES TO STATES

Congress Considers New Bill
Providing for Land Transfer.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The movement for the transfer of several water power sites from the national government to the several states and territories took shape today when Senator Smoot introduced a bill for that purpose.

Contrary to general expectations, the bill will provide for the leasing of power sites by the states and not permit their sale under any conditions. It would provide for transfer to a state whenever it was shown to the satisfaction of the secretary of the interior that any tract of land was chiefly valuable as a power site, and that the reservation would be made, and that would be what the transfer should not interfere with prospecting or the development of mineral resources.

Other conditions of the bill are:

That the land shall be devoted by the states only to the development of water power; that the state shall reserve the right to fix charges by power companies for each ten year period; that no monopoly shall be permitted to lessees under the law.

The last section would provide for the forfeiture of the land by the states in case of any disposition of the land contrary to the provisions of the proposed law.

Through A. C. Hammond, Elizabeth B. Hawe, Carrie M. Landers, Frits Stenzel and Mildred E. Hawe, comprising the board of directors, the Masonic Hall Association of San Leandro filed application in the Superior Court for a decree of voluntary dissolution. The application recites that all claims and demands against the association had been satisfied and discharged and that it was unanimous vote of the share-holders of the corporation that the steps leading to dissolution were authorized. Judge Oden will give the application a hearing next Monday morning.

REFUSED TO COME HE GETS DIVORCE

Contractor Found Farm but Wife Didn't Care and Stayed in Chicago.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—After twenty years of married life, spent in the windy city of Chicago, George H. Nichols, a contractor, came to this city, leaving his wife in the East and promising to send for her. He immediately found fame and fortune in California, and wrote his better half to join him. She refused to do so, however, saying she would not leave Chicago, and accordingly Judge Morgan this morning granted him a divorce on the ground of desertion.

Henry Peter Jacobson, who was divorced from his wife, Edna E. Jacobson, on April 4, 1903, petitioned the court today to have the records restored in order that he might avoid, if possible, the payment of $25 monthly to his former wife. At the time of the separation Mrs. Jacobson was awarded the custody of the child, but later married R. P. Markey. Jacobson still continuing to pay her $25 monthly for the support of the child. He now claims that he should not be compelled to look out for the little one, his wife having seen fit to move with the son of another.

THE PROBLEM OF HIGH PRICES

A VITAL ISSUE FOR EVERY MAN AND WOMAN

There Is a Way Out!

The increased cost of commodities is one of the vital topics of the hour. It affects everyone. No one is too high and none too low to mark the increased cost of everything that is purchased. The whole country has awakened to the great problem that confronts it. What is to be done? What is the remedy?

There Is a Way Out!

Every person is affected, but most the man on a salary, the professional man, the wage earner. Salaries do not rise in proportion to the increased necessary expenditure. Wages do not go up to meet the enlarged demands of the shopkeeper upon the family purse. The wage-earner is caught as in a trap. On the one hand his salary remains constant or increases but slowly. On the other hand the demands upon his income increase by leaps and bounds. What can he do? How can he meet and master this situation?

There Is a Way Out!

Look at these two market baskets. The one represents what groceries you could have purchased for a given sum of money in 1896; the other represents what you receive for the same sum of money now. These market baskets graphically portray how incomes have shrunk, how your dollars are diminished, your purchasing power decreased. And the worst of it is that there seems to be no end to the upward trend of prices. Month by month, year by year, they mount and mount with only temporary and inconsequential decreases.

There Is a Way Out!

A noted professor of Chicago University has said recently that in five years the purchasing power of the dollar will have again been cut in half. Do you realize what this means? Suppose you had $500 in $20 gold pieces locked away in a safe deposit box and every time you looked you found the pile of gold a little smaller, till at the end of five years there was only half as much in the box as at the beginning. That—just that—is what the rise in values means. For money is measured by its purchasing power. If it will purchase only half as much it is worth only half as much.

There Is a Way Out!

Look at these two drawings. The diagonal line in the first represents the rise in prices. See at what an angle it soars. The diagonal line in the second drawing indicates the rise of wages. See at how much slower an angle it rises. No wonder the American wage earner finds it difficult to make both ends meet when prices of what he must buy increase so rapidly and his income so slowly.

There Is a Way Out!

Of course, you may be the exceptional man. Your income, your wages, may be doubling every year. If so these words are not for you. They are for the average salaried man, the average professional man, the man who feels keenly the burden of high prices, the man who begins to wonder how it is all going to end, who begins to have dark doubts of the future, to speculate if he can hang on and make good in the face of such adverse conditions.

There Is a Way Out!

There is a way out! Tomorrow in this space in this newspaper will be told you simply clearly, fully, comprehensively, the way out. The writer of these lines recognizes fully and accepts completely the responsibilities involved in saying there is a way out. He believes he is raising no expectations that cannot be fulfilled. He believes when you have read the message that will appear in this space in this newspaper tomorrow you will agree that there is a way out for the wage-earner.

JACK BURNS MAY BECOME THE CHAMPIONSHIP POSSIBILITY

Racing Stables Prepare for Annual Migration to Eastern Tracks

VICTORY WILL START THE SALINAS MAN UP LADDER

Barry Has Had His Chance and Is Regarded as Second-Rater--Big Offer to Ketchel and Langford

By EDDIE SMITH

TOMORROW night at the Dreamland Pavilion in San Francisco Jack Burns and Jim Barry will meet in a twenty-round contest that means much to both, but especially to Burns. Barry and Burns are in a class that, should it be labeled, would be called the best of the second-raters. Neither man has shown anything that would entitle him to a ranking with the best of the big fellows, and Barry has been proven to be lacking in the qualities that go to make champions in his fighting with Al Kaufman and Sam Langford.

Barry has had a chance at the first-rate heavyweights and was beaten. For this reason the winning of the match that is to be held tomorrow night will not mean that Barry will be looked upon as a championship possibility—it will simply mean that he will be able to get more matches, and that he will get more money for his end as a winner than he would as a loser. With Burns it is different. Should the fast-coming young fellow win from Barry he will be looked upon as a champion possibility, and should he be fortunate enough to score a knock-out this impression would be so strong with the fans that a match between the Salinas man and one of the best of the heavyweights would prove a great card.

BURNS NO NOVICE.

The belief that Burns is a novice is wrong, for he has had at least 18 contests and should know the tricks of the game by this time, the trouble with Burns has been that he had little chance for improvement during his early start owing to the fact that he had no one to point out to him the right way to accomplish the tricks known to the game. For the battle of tomorrow night Burns will enter the ring in the best condition that he has ever been in and he will be at his best in the matter of knowledge of the game. The realization of what it means to win this fight the fans can expect to see the Salinas man fighting with a determination to prove that he will force the going to be fast from the first tap of the bell.

Burns figures on being bested for the first ten rounds of the battle, but he believes that the pace he will set during these rounds will be so fast that Barry will be all to the bad during the last ten, and then will come on and win. To do this Burns will have to show more speed than he has shown in any of his contests around the bay cities for Barry is some pumpkin at stalling when tired and is fairly quick with either hand.

SLOWNESS HANDICAP.

Burns' one drawback is his slowness and unless he has improved in speed he will have little chance to win the battle.

During his boxing in the gymnasium, while training for the contest, Burns has been boxing with Tim O'Neill, whom he fought ten rounds at the Wheelmen Club. At that time O'Neill proved a great deal faster than Burns, but was not big enough to hold the heavyweight off, and of course lost the decision. In their boxing bouts at Alameda Burns has proven to his friends that he has picked up in speed by outboxing O'Neill in their training stints, and for this reason many of the fans who may hesitate about betting on the big fellow are now nibbling at the short end of the betting stick with 2 to 1 with Barry on the long end.

Burns has trained harder for this contest than he did for the "Gunboat" Smith battle, for he knows full well that the Bohemian would be well backed by the southern fans and that while Powell might be a favorite at this end of the line, Mensic would sell at evens in the south. Mensic is well thought of in Los Angeles, for he has put up many great contests there. It would not be surprising if many of the southern fans come to town to witness the fight, and contrast between the two.

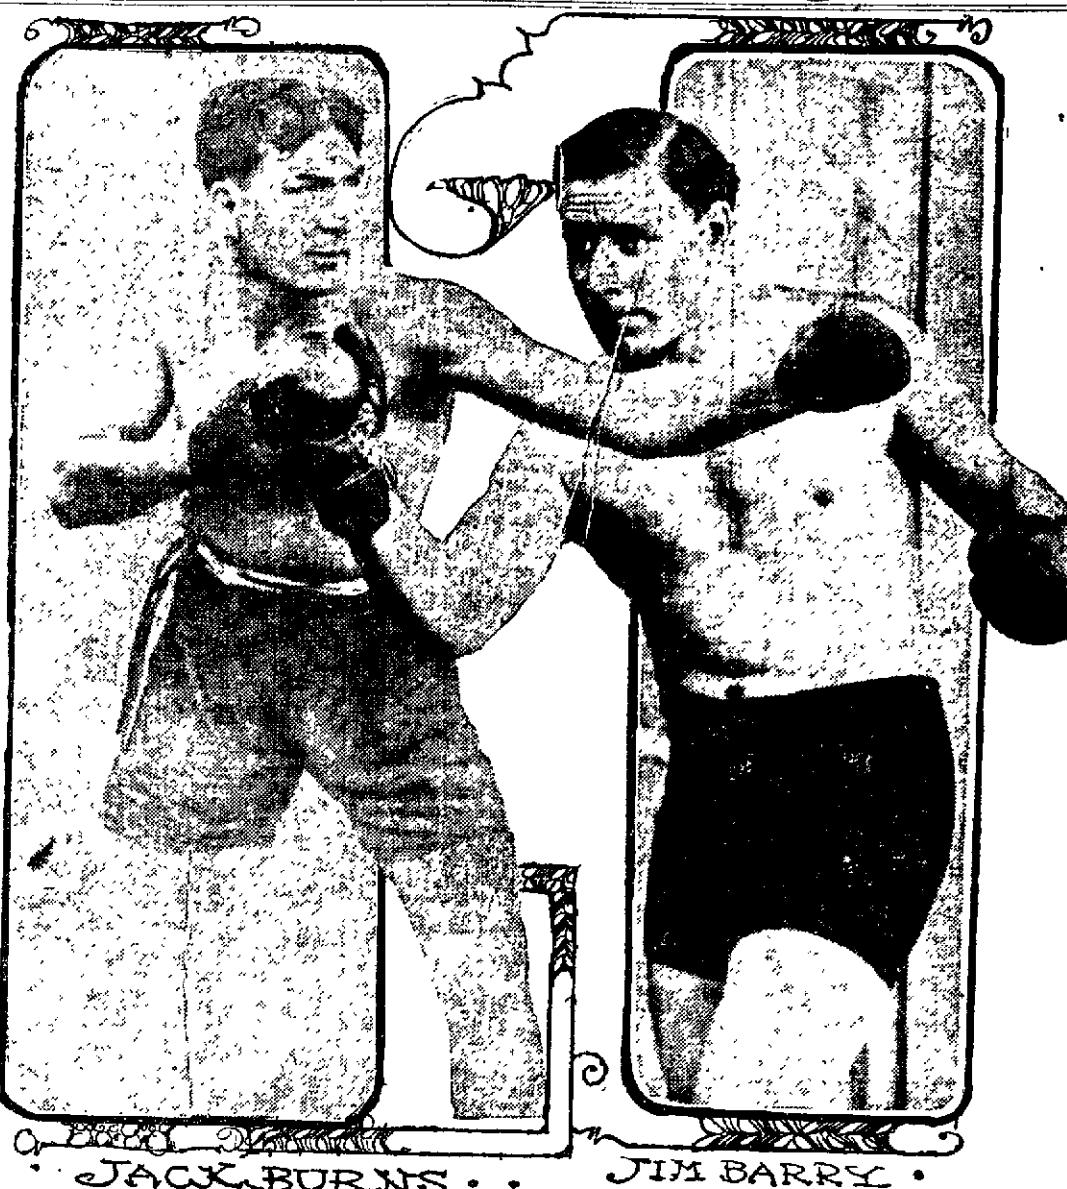

Powell and Mensic both want to crack at Powel, and the winner of that bout and Tommy Murphy may eventually fight for the chance at the champion when he starts milling next winter.

BURNS FIGHTS IN EAST.

Burns' Burns will meet Phil Knight at Kansas City on April 6th in a ten round contest. This will be the first contest that Burns has had since leaving California, and will be a sort of a try out for the Californian. Knight was on the coast about three years and showed some GRIFFIN'S BIG OFFER.

Jim Griffin has come to the front with an offer of $30,000 for a Stanley Ketchel-Sam Langford fight for the 2nd of July.

JOE NEALON, VICTIM OF TYPHOID, IS NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE

JOe Nealon, captain of last year's winning State League team of this city and one of the best ball players in California, is lying at death's door in his home in San Francisco, suffering from typhoid fever. Several physicians have been at the bedside of the ill athlete almost constantly for the past few days, and although they hold out but slight hope for his recovery, they state that his splendid physique may enable him to pull through. Nealon showed but little strength when he was "knocked" Brown's team in the game of sure-things men and bangers-on, who are eagerly looking for a "live one" to show up.

SCHREIBER'S DELIGHT.

Bernie Schreiber came near forgetting that he had a "game" leg when he received the news Saturday that Jack Atkin had won an impressive race at Jacksonville. The general German is a happy man every time the iron horse by Bain wins a race.

Manager and Starter Richard Dwyer

will leave here April 12 for Salt Lake City, en route to the opening of the big met at Buena Vista Park.

Assistant Starter Joe Webber

creates a sensation in dispatching the runners away from the starting gate most likely to be the man selected again to do the starting at Victoria and Vancouver. His work with the barrier was found satisfactory to the racing season at Victoria and Vancouver last season.

Assistant Starter Jake Hogan

leaves shortly for New York, where he will report to St. Louis Monday. He will visit his home in Chicago on his way East. Hogan, who got his education as an assistant under Starter Jake Holtzman, was surely made good for his new employer.

Jockey A. Thomas

the crack colored rider will leave this week for Kentucky to report to Owner Fred Shuyler, his contract employer. The colored lightweight will be in demand this summer.

Barney Schreiber

is contemplating taking in the spring meeting at Florida.

Owner and Trainer "Ham" Keene

is still awaiting the announcement of the date for the Salt Lake meeting. He will leave for Kentucky to help string up runners to be campaigned at Buena Vista Park.

"Jack" Johnson Decides To Come West at Once

CHICAGO, March 25.—Jack Johnson, who is scheduled for a fight with James J. Jeffries in California July 4th, decided upon his return from New York yesterday to change his training plans and go to the coast at an early date. After a talk with Promoter Jack Gleason last night he promised the Californian that he would start for San Francisco April 14th. Johnson expects that the New York assault case will be settled in due time and that it will not interfere with his training on the coast.

EXPRESS COMPANY PRESIDENT DEAD

Dudley Evans Dies Following Operation Thought to Be Success.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Dudley Evans, president of Wells, Fargo & Co., died in the Roosevelt hospital here last night.

Two weeks ago Evans was taken to the hospital to prepare for a painful but not necessarily serious operation. He was operated upon last Monday by Drs. Janeway and Brewer, and the operation was thought to have been successful.

Today, however, Evans became so much worse that his wife was sent for. He sank continually till death came.

Besides his widow, he is survived by his son, Stanley, and a daughter, Mrs. Roger Dunscombe. The family lived at Englewood, N. J.

He was a director in and was vice-president of the Wells, Fargo Company and had been its president since 1902. He was a director of the Wells, Fargo & Co. bank in New York, the Wells, Fargo Nevada National Bank of San Francisco and the Citizens' National Bank of Englewood, N. J.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Dudley Evans had a large business acquaintance in this city. Upon becoming Wells, Fargo's president, on the death of President Valentine, he spent some time here and was again in this city following the fire of 1906.

City Improvement
Iowa Election Issue

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 25.—Practically every city in Iowa, of any importance, will hold a municipal election today, the greatest interest centering in those cities that have adopted the commission form of government, which are Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, Sioux City, and Burlington.

Municipal improvement is the principal issue in all the smaller towns where there are issues, but in a majority of the towns the contests are of little importance. In one or two towns law enforcement has been pushed to the front. In practically all the cities a complete change will be made in the personnel of the city government.

First Babe Born in New Palace Hotel

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—The first baby to be born in the Palace Hotel in an appearance yesterday afternoon, the child of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hollingsworth, an Oaklander.

The youngster was ushered into the world amid excitement and interest, which permeated the entire hotel.

News of the impending birth became known to the public and immediately aroused the interest of the management and of all the old patrons of the hotel.

Hollingsworth is a Southern Pacific attorney. He and his wife arrived in San Francisco a week ago.
